STAND-UP COMEDY · LOS ANGELES

Aladdin.

The Civilizational Decoder

A Turkish-born former war correspondent who decodes cultures with voices, songs and wild act-outs. He's the audience's high-status friend, never the confused immigrant. His clean, high-energy sets play for mainstream club crowds, diaspora audiences and anyone who's ever been “the foreigner” in the room.

BIO

Aladdin (Alaattin Kılıç) is a Turkish-born stand-up comedian and former war correspondent based in West Hollywood. Trained in opera, he decodes cultures with voices, songs and wild act-outs. He came up at the Miami Improv, the Fort Lauderdale Improv and Villain Theater, and took 3rd place in The Blueprint 500 at the Hollywood Improv Lab.
